

Aurora, Nebraska. Presbyterian United Church of Christ.
(formerly The Federated Church = 1st Congregational & 1st Presbyterian)

Records, 1872-1949

The records on deposit are those of the First Congregational Church, Aurora Nebraska, organized April 18, 1872. The Church federated with the First Presbyterian Church, Aurora, Nebraska (organized August 17, 1873), and became known as The Federated Church in 1925. The congregation is still a federated church, changing the name to the Presbyterian United Church of Christ in 1984.

The records contained in the Congregational Library/Congregational Christian Historical Society are those of the First Congregational Church. They date from 1872 - 1949.

The records of the First Presbyterian Church were sent to the Presbyterian Historical Society in Philadelphia by the present church. They date from 1878-1942.

All records of the church (First Presbyterian, First Congregational, The Federated Church, and the Presbyterian United Church of Christ) were microfilmed by the present church, with copies at the church and at the Nebraska State Historical Society.

Records were processed July, 1989, and are located in RBR Range 11.
There is 1 Hollinger records storage box containing 17 volumes.
