Description

Historical Note: Dwight J. Bradley (1889-1957), clergyman, author, and social commentator, was born in Yankton, South Dakota, December 16, 1889. He was ordained in the Congregational Church in 1915. Bradley had Doctor of Divinity degrees from the Pacific School of Religion as well as from Colby and Oberlin Colleges. Throughout his career as an ordained minister, he held various positions, such as the executive director of the Council for Social Action of the Congregational and Christian Churches of the United States. He was also the general director of religious activities for the Army and Navy, and a professor at Andover-Newton Theological Seminary.

Rev. Dwight J. Bradley served in the following churches:

Highland Church, Cleveland Ohio, 1915-1917

First Church, El Paso Texas, 1917-1920

First Church, Webster Grove Missouri, 1920-1929

First Church, Newton Massachusetts, 1930-1934

Union Church, Boston Massachusetts, 1934-1938

Edgehill Church, New York New York, 1953-1957

Scope of Collection: This collection consists of materials pertaining to the life of Dwight J. Bradley from 1938-1942. There are daily journals, several published books, three unpublished works, in addition to miscellaneous correspondences. His journals contain personal opinions on major world events, such as World War II, as well as personal issues like the passing of Bradley's father. The journals also include the dates and locations when Bradley travelled across the United States. The books and unpublished works reflect Bradley's beliefs in his faith, the ideal marriage, and how to treat our fellow man. The miscellaneous materials shed light on issues and events described in the journals, such as newspaper clippings of Bradley's writings.
